Application Information for Exchange Program at Kanagawa University 2023

Kanagawa University announces the application information for the exchange program for the students from partner institutions as below:

1. Kanagawa University Student Exchange Program

Exchange students at Kanagawa University each belong to a faculty or graduate school, and conduct study/research activities according to the following:

- Undergraduates: study subjects in the field of the faculty to which they belong, Japanese language subjects and subjects related to Japan (there are some subjects, such as seminar subjects, for which exchange students cannot register).
- Graduate students: Belonging to a graduate school, choose one of the two paths mentioned below. They must carefully check the requirements of their home university before choosing their path on the application form. However, if the graduate school that a student wishes to belong to for the subject study path is not one that accepts students for the subject study path, then the student must either choose another graduate school or belong to an undergraduate faculty instead. If a graduate student belongs to an undergraduate faculty, they will be subject to the same conditions regarding subject selection as a regular undergraduate student.

[Paths for Graduate School Exchange Students]

The paths for graduate school exchange students are as follows. The path for which a Graduate school exchange students selects in application document[®] Study Plan/Research Plan will be deemed the official selection, so students are requested to ensure they read the conditions carefully and make the correct path selection.

• Subject Study Path (for exchange students who wish to take Japanese language subjects, subjects related to Japan and a wide range of specialist subjects, rather than conducting research in their major field)

- While the student will belong to a graduate school, they are permitted to take subjects at undergraduate and graduate level without restriction. However, they are required to take at least 6 subjects per semester including at least 1 subject in the graduate school to which they belong.
- No research supervisor will be allocated to such students.
- In the case that the graduate school a student wishes to enroll in does not accept "Subject Study Path" exchange students, then the student must either choose another graduate school or belong to an undergraduate faculty instead.

•Research Focus Path (for exchange students who wish to focus on conducting research activities in their major field)

• A student will be accepted if allocation of a research supervisor, based on the contents of the submitted Research Plan, is deemed possible.

• At the conclusion of their exchange, the student must submit a report outlining the results of their research.

• The student must enroll in at least 1 subject in the graduate school to which they belong.

As it is necessary to select a research supervisor for graduate school exchange students who wish to select the Research Focus Path, we request that the study/research plan to be outline in application form ⑧ Study Plan/Research Plan be written in as much detail as possible. For the research supervisor that you wish to provide supervision, please refer to the below URL, before entering a name. As there is a possibility that an exchange will not be accepted if the study area does not match, the student is requested to ensure that a supervisor who has matching research/educational interests is selected. http://kenkyu.kanagawa-u.ac.jp/kuhp/KgApp
